Reimagining Medicine Starts With Our People

The Manager, Community Adoption is responsible for building and scaling a vibrant self-service AI adoption community across US Commercial. Reporting to the Director, Self-Service & AI Adoption Lead, this role will drive user engagement through champion networks, peer learning programs, office hours, success stories, and ongoing feedback mechanisms.

This position plays a key role in sustaining AI adoption beyond initial deployment by fostering collaboration, sharing best practices, and creating a strong community of AI advocates across the organization.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities

- Build and manage AI user communities, champion networks, office hours, and peer-learning forums.
- Promote adoption through engagement campaigns, events, and community activation initiatives.
- Capture user feedback, adoption barriers, success stories, and use cases, sharing insights with product and enablement teams.
- Maintain community channels, FAQs, knowledge assets, and content calendars.
- Facilitate discussions that encourage peer support, collaboration, and continuous learning.
- Track community participation, engagement metrics, and adoption trends.
- Support champion development and empower local advocates to drive ongoing adoption.
- Identify recurring issues and recommend improvements to enhance user experience and value realization.

Essential Requirements

- Bachelor's degree in Business, Organizational Development, Learning, Communications, Healthcare, Digital Technologies, or a related field.
- 4+ years of experience in community management, change management, customer success, communications, learning operations, business operations, or digital adoption.
- Strong facilitation, communication, writing, and stakeholder engagement skills.
- Experience managing Teams, SharePoint, online communities, user groups, or learning networks.
- Ability to influence without authority and foster engagement across diverse stakeholder groups.
- Strong project coordination and organizational capabilities.
- Experience leveraging data and user feedback to improve adoption outcomes.
- Fluency in English required.
- Experience with AI tools, digital transformation initiatives, pharma, healthcare, or champion networks preferred.
