- Lead and develop team - Lead, coach, and develop a team of Medical Representatives; embed a high-performance culture with clear objectives and accountability; optimize individual and team capability through structured coaching and development planning.
- Coach in the field - Conduct regular field coaching, joint customer visits, and structured feedback sessions (including coaching on the International Commercialization Excellence (ICE) guidance, KPIs and targets), document in the coaching tool; build a high-performance, accountable culture.
- Build capability and talent - Review Field Force Effectiveness Assessment for the field force team and develop appropriate targeted development plans for medical reps in collaboration with Capability Building Manager and prepare future talent and successors.
- Drive execution excellence - Ensure adoption of ICE standards and new commercialization models: customer S&T, call plan adherence, omnichannel engagement, timely and accurate calls ' reporting.
- Engage customers - Build strong partnerships with key customers and stakeholders; enable effective cross-functional collaboration to maximize patient and business impact.
- Partner cross-functionally - Work with Marketing, Medical, Value & Access and cross-functional teams; consolidate field insights into clear recommendations for the Brand Team.
- Role model integrity and ethical conduct - Ensure compliance with Novartis policies and procedures; manage resources and budgets responsibly.

Requirements:

- Education: University degree in medical and pharmacy.
- Minimum 5 years ' experience in pharmaceutical or healthcare, including proven first-line people management.
- Track record of achieving the targets; experience with competitive brands and/or launches preferred.
- Strong communication, collaboration, and stakeholder management skills.
- Strong people leadership, coaching, and talent development capability.
- Analytical and enterprise mindset; able to interpret data and KPIs into action.
- Experience in omnichannel customer engagement and confident use of digital/AI tools.
- High standards of integrity, ethics, and compliance awareness.
- Languages: Vietnamese, Proficient in English (written & oral communication).
