Turn scientific insight into investment decisions that could help shape the future of medicine. As an Analyst with the Novartis Venture Fund, you'll join a small, highly collaborative team investing in innovative life sciences companies developing potentially paradigm-changing therapies in areas of high unmet need. You'll work alongside experienced venture investors across scientific and business due diligence, market and competitive analysis, investment evaluation and portfolio support, while building your understanding of the wider drug development and investment landscape. With exposure to senior decision-makers, entrepreneurs, company leaders and scientific experts, this is an opportunity to build on your scientific expertise, broaden your commercial perspective and develop as a life sciences venture investor.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities

· Support scientific and business due diligence for new and follow-on life sciences investments.

· Evaluate scientific publications, business plans and emerging technologies to inform investment decisions.

· Conduct competitive, market and landscape analyses across therapeutic areas and emerging science.

· Engage with scientific experts and key opinion leaders to test investment hypotheses.

· Assess companies, development programs and market opportunities alongside senior investment colleagues.

· Build financial and capital models to support investment evaluation and decision-making.

· Prepare clear investment memoranda, financial analyses and presentations for internal review.

· Coordinate deal flow and maintain accurate documentation across prospective and existing investments.

· Support portfolio companies by coordinating interactions across the Novartis Venture Fund and wider Novartis organization.

· Collaborate with senior colleagues and external stakeholders across the life sciences and venture capital ecosystem.

Essential Requirements

· Doctor of Philosophy and/or Doctor of Medicine in natural sciences, medicine or a closely related discipline.

· At least two years' experience within the pharmaceutical, biotechnology or investment industry.

· Strong scientific expertise with an understanding of life sciences, drug development, medical needs and emerging scientific trends.

· Experience with, or strong understanding of, scientific due diligence and evaluating scientific evidence.

· Strong analytical and conceptual skills, with the ability to connect scientific insight with broader business and market considerations.

· Excellent written and verbal communication skills, including confidence engaging with senior stakeholders and external experts.

- Ability to prioritize and manage multiple projects effectively in an international, high-performance environment.

- Proactive, collaborative and intellectually curious approach, with a strong interest in research, analysis and life sciences investing.

Desirable Requirements

- Master of Business Administration or equivalent business education would be an advantage.

- Additional language capabilities beyond fluent English would be beneficial.

Benefits & Rewards

At Novartis, we ' re committed to reimagining medicine together - and rewarding the people who make it happen.

Expected Annual Base Salary Range for role: 102,200 CHF - 189,800 CHF gross per annum.

The base salary offered is determined based on gender-neutral objectives, such as relevant skills, competencies and experience in accordance with the Novartis pay setting policy and upon joining Novartis will be reviewed periodically.

The rewards of being part of our team go far beyond base pay and incentives. We also offer a variety of competitive benefits in kind to help you thrive personally and professionally, such as insurance plans, retirement plans, wellbeing resources and global recognition programs. In addition, we provide flexible and hybrid working options, where possible, and minimum 14 weeks paid parental leave.

In addition to your base salary, you may be eligible for a performance-based bonus depending on certain performance parameters. Long-term equity awards granted at group level may also be part of your package. Further details will be provided during the application process.
