Take the lead in introducing new suppliers into our manufacturing network and help ensure a smooth, compliant transition from start to finish. As Direct Materials Life Cycle Manager, you will manage projects across the Small Molecules platform, focusing on excipients and chemicals while ensuring that quality and regulatory requirements are met. This is an individual contributor role with significant cross-functional impact, coordinating diverse project teams to deliver key direct materials initiatives successfully.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities

- Plan and deliver direct materials projects, coordinating activities across global and local functions.
- Define project goals, milestones and long-term plans to support successful outcome of the project.
- Establish clear project plans and objectives in collaboration with key stakeholders.
- Track project progress and communicate changes in strategy, priorities or timelines.
- Lead project communication and stakeholder engagement to strengthen alignment and support informed decisions.
- Identify, assess and manage project risks, escalating issues through established processes.
- Define and implement corrective actions to address project challenges and keep delivery on track.
- Maintain accurate project dashboards, documentation, status updates and key performance indicator tracking.
- Ensure compliance with internal policies, legislation, professional standards, Good Manufacturing Practice and regulatory requirements.
- Coordinate cross-functional project teams and support continuous improvement of life cycle management processes.

Essential Requirements

- University degree in Science, Business Administration or another relevant field.
- At least 8 years of experience in a role of similar scope and complexity.
- Extensive project management experience, including coordinating cross-functional teams without direct reporting authority.
- Strong knowledge of supply chain life cycle management and product life cycle management processes.
- Knowledge of Good Manufacturing Practice, change management and relevant quality and regulatory requirements.
- Strong stakeholder, conflict management, negotiation and decision-making skills in complex, international environments.
- Fluent written and spoken English.

Desirable Requirements

- Experience with Chemicals, API and DP operations, supply chain or project management
