摘要

We are looking for a Medical Manager Immunology to join our Medical Affairs team.

In this role, you will help shape and execute the Medical Affairs strategy within Immunology, providing scientific and medical expertise across the organization. You will work closely with internal and external stakeholders to generate and communicate scientific insights, support clinical research activities and build meaningful scientific engagement with healthcare professionals and key opinion leaders.

This is an opportunity to combine strong scientific expertise with strategic thinking and cross-functional collaboration to support better outcomes for patients.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities

- Support the development, implementation and execution of Medical Affairs plans within Immunology, aligned with the overall therapeutic area and product strategy.
- Provide high-quality and timely responses to medical and scientific enquiries in accordance with applicable standards, including the development of standard response documents for frequently asked questions where appropriate.
- Provide medical and scientific input into the development and execution of clinical trial and clinical research activities.
- Support the initiation and oversight of clinical studies and research activities within the therapeutic area.
- Contribute to the country strategy for Non-Interventional Studies (NIS) and Investigator-Initiated Trials (IITs).
- Build and maintain high-quality scientific dialogue with Key Opinion Leaders (KOLs), healthcare professionals and relevant external stakeholders.
- Coordinate the medical review and approval of locally developed medical and promotional materials.
- Ensure medical materials provided by global or regional teams are appropriately tailored to local stakeholder needs and reviewed and approved according to applicable guidelines.
- Generate and communicate relevant medical insights to cross-functional partners, including Pharmacovigilance, Regulatory Affairs, Market Access, Quality Assurance, Commercial and Brand teams.
- Collaborate cross-functionally to ensure medical and scientific perspectives are incorporated into relevant business and therapeutic-area activities.
- Identify and assess risks within the area of responsibility, develop appropriate mitigation plans and support the implementation and monitoring of internal controls.
- Ensure activities are conducted in accordance with applicable Ethics & Compliance requirements.
- Report technical complaints, adverse events and special case scenarios related to Novartis products within 24 hours of receipt.
- Support the distribution of marketing samples where applicable.

What You 'll Bring to the Role

Essential Requirements

- Relevant scientific, medical or healthcare educational background.
- Experience within Medical Affairs, medical/scientific functions or a related pharmaceutical environment.
- Strong scientific knowledge and the ability to interpret and communicate complex medical and clinical information.
- Experience engaging with healthcare professionals and other scientific stakeholders.
- Ability to translate scientific and medical insights into meaningful input for Medical Affairs strategy and activities.
- Strong cross-functional collaboration skills and the ability to work effectively with Medical, Regulatory, Pharmacovigilance, Market Access, Quality and Commercial colleagues.

- Strong communication and stakeholder-management capabilities.
- High standards of ethics, compliance and scientific integrity.

Desirable Requirements

- Previous experience or scientific expertise within Immunology.
- Experience supporting clinical studies, Non-Interventional Studies or Investigator-Initiated Trials.
- Experience working in a matrixed, cross-functional pharmaceutical environment.

Key Measures of Success

- High-quality and timely delivery of Medical Affairs activities.
- Successful execution of annual medical objectives and plans.
- Quality and impact of medical and scientific stakeholder engagement.
- Effective generation and communication of medical insights across the organization.
- Strong cross-functional collaboration.
- Full adherence to applicable Ethics & Compliance requirements.
